The Made in Cuyama project focuses on identifying local entrepreneurs and businesses and helping them reach their full potential within our rural communities in the Cuyama Valley. We actively support the development of social ventures that lead to hiring locally, provide job training, and advance social and environmental community initiatives as partners and collaborators. Our team assists with business planning, marketing, connection to financing, commercial space, and manages a shared-use kitchen: the Cuyama Kitchen / La Cocina Cuyama.

Additionally, we received two State of California Arts Council Grants to support our work along with our partner: photographer Noé Montes. Through this partnership, we hosted free photography/creative design workshops for Cuyama residents and youth.

This project also allowed us to hire Corbin LaMont of the Office of Virtue to transform the data collected from the 2019 Cuyama Valley Community Survey into beautiful, accessible, and comprehensive infographics. Assets created through this arts focused consulting service will be distributed to community members and stakeholders through BSC's website, social media platforms, and printed reports in 2021. This project builds Blue Sky Center's capacity both in communicating more effectively the survey results and by providing templates for infographics for us to create ourselves for future projects. We also launched our Outpost Studio Program this year. Rather than a residency, this program serves as a retreat for artists in search of space and time to develop creative practices. Outposters can make use of our abundant indoor and outdoor facilities, drawing inspiration from Cuyama and enhancing its creative culture in turn. We hosted two residents in 2020 through this program.

d. Community Research and Development

In 2020, we completed a years-long research project that became the 2020 Cuyama Valley Community Action Plan. Funded by a federal HUD Section 4 grant from Enterprise Community Partners' Culture and Creativity Initiative, the development of this Action Plan was achieved through an extensive 18-month public process.

We continue to support the school system through advocacy and direct fundraising, setting up and collecting $20,394 to support the school breakfast and lunch program-and other school new safety and distanced learning needs-during the pandemic. With long term timelines in mind, we continue to be learning about and contributing to the body of research and resource solicitation for the improvement of quality and access to drinking and irrigation water along with research and coalition building to support projects that seek to bring broadband internet to the Cuyama Valley. With RCAC and a grant from the U.S. Department of Labor, we have been specifically looking to understand the housing needs of Cuyaman farmworkers, collecting new data and developing partnerships with regional housing organizations to bring housing repair and rehabilitation resources to Cuyama in the coming year.

The Cuyama Valley Victory Gardens project was created and implemented in 2020. With financial support from the Fund for Santa Barbara, the Victory Gardens project utilizes a garden to-table model to empower families to find food security within their own backyards. With educational and material support, 11 gardens were installed in 2020. Blue Sky Center's approach to promoting holistic human flourishing in our community is to continue fortifying what exists within the Valley by identifying local champions and developing resources that establish resiliency. The establishment of a gardening "network" model has functioned as an invitation to participants to step into volunteer and leadership roles in the Valley.

Cuyama Valley Food Action Network: Blue Sky Center facilitates a working group of farmers and ranchers who are actively contributing to the creation of a healthy food system in the Cuyama Valley. Building local wealth relies on building capacity of local networks. Through our partnership with Santa Barbara County Food Action Network, our Made in Cuyama team facilitated the creation of five beautiful videos in 2020 telling the story of our Cuyama food system leaders and promoting the products and services unique to the Cuyama Valley.

f. BLUE SKY VENTURES

Blue Sky Ventures was launched to support and celebrate local farmers who are utilizing climate-appropriate farming practices through direct investment. Cuyama Beverage Company is a proof of concept for Blue Sky Ventures which produces small batched mead beverages utilizing ingredients sourced from these farmers. This social venture aims to support diversity and inclusivity, triple-bottom-line impact, education and training, and economic development in the Cuyama Valley. In 2020, we invested time in research and development, establishing and growing partnerships with producers, and soliciting and receiving approvals from relevant agencies in order to start this entrepreneurial initiative in 2021.
